Dear parents and carers,

Today I would like to express my admiration for all of the Year 6 children. They have shown that they live and breathe the school values of perseverance, compassion and courage as they have tackled this year's Key Stage 2 SATS. As you may have seen in the press, this year's tests have been particularly hard but Year 6 have not given up and completed their assessments with good humour. I am very, very proud of them. I would like to thank Year 6 parents for making sure your children have come to school in a calm manner ready for breakfast and the tests. I would also like to thank all the staff across the school for being so adaptable and pulling together to give the children the very best chance of doing as well as they could in the SATs.
